MRS. A. W. HICKLIN,

PHYSICIAN AND ELECTRICIAN,

No. 66 Front street, up stairs, one door north of Kingsley's Brick Building.

MRS. HICKLIN WILL CURE ALL ACUTE NERVOUS and Chronic Diseases with Electricity and Water, without the use of medicine, and will apply the Electricity according to Prof. W. R. Wells' theory. Mrs. H. is experienced in the practice of medicine, but has now almost entirely given it up, believing that ELECTRICITY IS THE ONLY SAFE REMEDIAL AGENT for the cure of Diseases. Medical men generally suppose that there are many causes for the various diseases in existence, and that one disease may have various causes in nature to produce it. We contend that there is but one grand cause for all disease, and this is a loss of balance of the two sources of Electricity in the part or parts diseased.

We apply the current with sponges and never shock the patient, and would have it borne in mind that we have one of Prof. Wells' Double Current Electro-Galvanic Batteries, and can purify the blood, remove mercury from, build up and give tone to the system. We can Cure the worst cases of Rheumatism, Sore Eyes, Deafness and all other curable diseases that the human family is subject to. When the gossiping part of society say they have no faith in it, tell them we do not require any faith, but just give it a trial. You need not ask your physician if it will do you any good, for he knows nothing about the so-called practice of one of Prof. Wells' batteries.

We are prepared to Board and Lodge those who come for treatment, and will spare no pains in supplying the best hygienic fare. We shall require terms of board according to our fare. All communications in regard to treatment, should be addressed,

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

No Flag but the old Flag—the Red, White and Blue, With the Stars of a Union unbroken and true; [illegible]

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 17, 1865.

The Great Atrocity.

On Saturday noon the appalling announcement was received among us that Abraham Lincoln was no more. Our noble and honored President is indeed gone. [illegible] Calumny, treason and murder have at last done their work. The heinous crime which [illegible] among us have assured us was [illegible] has finally been perpetrated! President Lincoln has fallen under the stroke of an assassin, and the Secretary of State has received wounds from which it is not likely that he can recover.

The nation bows under its weight of grief and anguish. Through the fearful ordeal of battle by which it has been tried, it has borne up bravely, mourning indeed for the loss of its sons as they were snatched away by death; but its present bereavement is the most cruel and grievous of all, and an overwhelming sense of the great calamity oppresses every loyal and feeling heart. The nation's anguish is unutterable, and words are vain. Joined with the agony of our irreparable loss come feelings of the deepest shame and most intense indignation because of the commission of so high and foul a crime. The Chief Magistrate of our country, the highest officer of our Government, has died by the hand of violence, and the outraged majesty of the nation feels to the utmost the shame of this great dishonor.

Had Abraham Lincoln been other than he was; had he been a merciless despot or cruel tyrant instead of the pure, large-hearted, generous man that he has always proved to have been, the nation's grief might be less poignant; but the atrocity of his murder would still be felt by the injured law. But when we reflect that it is not a monster of wickedness, but one of the noble men and great souls of earth who has thus been timelessly removed, we can only bow our heads in grief and yield to the full current of our anguish.

Upon this fiendish spirit of murder which has been sedulously propagated and inflamed by the disloyal men and the disloyal press of the North, there must be meted out the fullest retribution. Thousands on thousands have fallen as sacrifices to the truculent spirit of revenge and hate by which this conflict was begun; but of all these martyrs, the blood of none calls so loudly for vengeance as that of the murdered Abraham Lincoln. Loyal men of the North! you know now the demoniacal intent of your enemies. Mildness and magnanimity will not disarm them. Let all who mourn the death of noble Abraham Lincoln, resolve that the fell spirit which caused it shall be eradicated utterly, even if the whole race of traitors and assassins must, for that purpose, be destroyed.

THE PRESIDENT'S MURDERER.—This individual, whose worthless life seems to have been obtruded upon the world only to mar a nation's peace, and whose death, though repeated a million times, could not atone for the invaluable life he has taken away, bears the name of J. Wilkes Booth. His brother Edwin, is the distinguished actor of that name. The assassin is himself an actor of some note. We believe he is a Marylander, and filled to the full with the infernal spirit of secession and all the enormities that attend it. An eternity of punishment can scarcely requite him for the crime he has committed.

RUMORED APPOINTMENT.—We hear it stated, with what truth we know not, that Quincy A. Brooks of this city has been appointed U. S. Assessor for Oregon, vice Thomas Frazer, whose term of office, it is said, has expired. Mr. Brooks is a man excellently qualified for the position. Mr. Frazer has discharged the duties of his office in a manner wholly acceptable to the people and the Department. If the report of the appointment of Mr. Brooks be true, it will doubtless receive official confirmation in a few days.

TROUBLE WITH INDIANS.—A letter from the Dalles, April 14th, informs us that the Canyon City stage, on its arrival at Birch Creek on its last upward trip, came upon a train of pack animals that the Indians had just got possession of. The stage was full of passengers, and by their timely arrival, the train was saved; the Indians fleeing through fright.

San Francisco News—Secesh Papers Cleaned Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Immediately upon receipt of the intelligence of the assassination of President Lincoln and probable assassination of Secretary Seward, all business places were closed and draped with mourning. The streets were soon crowded with grief-stricken citizens, panting for some object upon which to wreak their vengeance. About 2 o'clock some one suggested the destruction of all anti Administration newspaper offices. The crowd immediately ran to the office of the Democratic Press, which, with its contents, was soon gutted. Thence they went to the Monitor office, which they served in a like manner. By this time, Chief Burke and posse were on hand, but the crowd were too strong for them. The next office to be gutted was that of the News Letter, where they found nothing but some papers, the printing being done elsewhere.

The Occidental, published by Zach Montgomery, suffered the fate of the others. All the printing cases, type, &c., were burned in the street. The crowd then broke for the Echo du Pacifique, which office is on the same floor with the Alta California. The Alta office closed their iron doors to keep them at bay, while Mr. MacCrellish addressed them from an upper story window. They were thus detained a few minutes, until Chief Burk, with a detachment of armed police and a detachment of regular soldiers arrived, who cleared the crowd away from the door, and have kept them at bay since three o'clock. They have agreed to disperse if the Alta people will pass out the type boxes, &c., of the Echo du Pacifique, which MacCrellish has agreed to do as rapidly as possible. Fears are entertained that the populace maddened as they are with rage and excitement, may commit some still more overt acts before midnight.

The Bulletin and Alta issued free extras at noon, giving all the intelligence they had received.

John Dunnivan was arrested this afternoon on Bryant street by Chief Burk, for using treasonable language, and saying that he was glad that President Lincoln had been killed. It was a most fortunate circumstance for Dunnivan that he did not utter his fiendish exultations on Montgomery street, or he would have been killed.

That portion of our community who have always been secesh sympathizers, express great grief and horror at the act, utterly repudiating the slightest sympathy with the assassins.

The whole military force of the city, together with a detachment of the Provost Guard, are now out and are sweeping the crowd from Montgomery street. All drinking saloons are closed.

All the streets leading into Montgomery street are guarded by soldiers. No person is allowed to enter the street without permission from the officer in charge. The trouble that occurred this afternoon was created by an organization of about twenty members, whose intention was to destroy the offices and materials of the Democratic Press, News Letter, Monitor, Echo du Pacifique, and then to disperse. The city is now perfectly quiet and no further trouble can occur; nor is it anticipated that any would occur if the soldiers were withdrawn.

The San Francisco Stock Exchange Board adjourned this morning. There are no market or legal tender quotations. Gold yesterday was 111 to 1[illegible]; but it will probably go to 1[illegible] or upwards when business opens in New York.

Washington Council U. L. A. waits the action of the Grand Council of the State, which will convene this evening to take action concerning the great loss to the nation.

The Assassins Escape!

Full Particulars.

PURSUIT OF THE MURDERERS!

Sorrow throughout the North!

Riot in San Francisco!

Five Secesh Papers Destroyed!

[illegible] the President's box, waving a long dagger in his right hand, exclaiming "Sic Semper Tyrannis!" and immediately leaped from the box, which was in the second tier, to the stage beneath, and ran across to the opposite side of the stage, [illegible] his escape amid the bewilderment of the audience from the rear of the theatre, and mounting a horse fled.

The screams of Mrs. Lincoln first disclosed the fact to the audience that the President had been shot, when all present rose to their feet, rushing toward the stage, many exclaiming "hang him, hang him." The excitement was of the wildest possible description. Of course there was an abrupt termination of the performance. There was a rush towards the President's box, when the cries were heard of "Stand back!" "Give him air!" "Has any one stimulants?" On a hasty examination it was found that the President had been shot through the head, above and at the back of the temporal bone, and that some of the brain was oozing out. He was removed to a private house opposite the theater. The Surgeon General of the Army, and other Surgeons were sent for to attend to his condition.

On an examination of the private box, blood was discovered on the back of the cushioned rocking chair on which the President had been sitting, also on the partition and on the floor. A common single barrelled pocket pistol was found on the carpet.

A military guard was placed in front of the private residence to which the President had been conveyed. An immense crowd was in front of the premises, all deeply anxious to learn the condition of the President. It had been previously announced that the wound was mortal, but all hoped otherwise. The shock to the community was terrible.

At midnight, the Cabinet and Messrs. Sumner, [illegible], Farnsworth, Judge [illegible], Gov. Oglesby, Gen. Meigs, Col. Hay, and a few personal friends, with Surgeon General Barnes, with his immediate assistants, were around the bed at the side of the President, who was in a state of syncope, totally insensible and breathing slowly. Blood oozed from the wound at the back of his head. The Surgeon General exhausted every possible effort of medical skill, but all hope was gone. The parting of his family with the dying President was too sad for description.

The President and Mrs. Lincoln did not start for the theater until 15 minutes after 8 o'clock. Speaker Colfax was at the White House at the time. The President stated to him that he was going, although Mrs. Lincoln had not been well, because the papers had announced that Gen. Grant was to be present, and as Grant had gone North, he did not wish the audience to be disappointed. He went with apparent reluctance, and urged Colfax to go with him, but that gentleman had made other engagements, and with Ashmun, of Mass., bade him good bye.

When the excitement at the Theater was at its wildest height, reports were circulated that Secretary Seward had also been assassinated. On reaching this gentleman's residence, a crowd and a military guard were found at the door. On entering the residence, it was ascertained that the reports had been based on truth. Everybody there was so excited that scarcely an intelligible word could be gathered. The facts are substantially as follows:

About 10 o'clock, a man rang the bell and the call having been answered by a colored servant, he, the caller, said that he had come from Dr. Verdi, Secretary Seward's family physician, with a prescription, at the same time, holding in his hand a small piece of folded paper, and saying in answer to a refusal, that he must see the Secretary, as he was entrusted with particular directions concerning the medicine. He insisted on going up, although repeatedly informed that no one could enter the chamber.

He pushed the servant to one side and walked heavily towards the Secretary's room, and was met there by Mr. Fred. Seward, of whom he demanded to see the Secretary, making the same representation which he had given to the servant. What further passed in the way of colloquy is not known, but the man struck him on the head with a billy, severely injuring the skull and felling him almost senseless. The assassin then rushed into the chamber [illegible] of Mr. Seward, striking [illegible] Paymaster of the United States, and Mr. Hansell, a messenger of the State Department, and two male nurses, disabling them. He then rushed upon the Secretary, who was lying in bed in the same room, and inflicted three stabs in the neck, but severing, it is thought and hoped, no arteries, though he bled profusely.

The assassin then rushed down stairs, mounted his horse at the door, and rode off before an alarm could be sounded, and in the same manner as at the assassination of the President.

It is believed that the injuries of the Secretary are not fatal, although both the Secretary and Assistant Secretary are very seriously injured.

Secretaries Stanton and Welles and other prominent officers of the Government called at Mr. Seward's house to inquire into his condition, and there heard of the assassination of the President. They then proceeded to the house where the latter was lying.

An immense crowd gathered in front of the President's house, and a strong guard was stationed there, many evidently supposing that he would be brought to his home.

The city to-night presents a scene of wildest excitement, accompanied by violent expressions of indignation, and the profoundest sorrow. Many shed tears. The military authorities have dispatched mounted patrols in every direction, in order, if possible, to arrest the assassin. The whole police are likewise vigilant for the same purpose.

The attacks both at the theatre and Seward's house took place at about the same hour, thus showing a preconcerted plan to assassinate these gentlemen. Some evidence of the guilty party who attacked the President are in possession of the police. Vice President Johnson is in the city, and his headquarters are guarded.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—[illegible] This evening, about [illegible] at Ford's Theatre, the President while sitting in his private box, with Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Harris and Major Rathbone, was shot by an assassin who suddenly entered the box and approached behind the President. The assassin then leaped upon the stage, brandishing a large dagger and made his escape in the rear of the theatre. The pistol ball entered the back of the President's head and passed nearly through. The wound is mortal. The President has been insensible ever since it was inflicted, and is now dying. About the same hour an assassin, whether the same or not, entered Mr. Seward's apartments under pretense of having a prescription, was shown to the Secretary's sick chamber, [illegible] the assassin immediately rushed to the bed and inflicted two or three stabs in the throat and two in the face. It is hoped the wounds may not prove fatal. My apprehension is that they will prove mortal.

The nurse alarmed Fred. Seward, who was in an adjoining room, and hastened to the door of his father's room, where he met the assassin, who inflicted upon him one or more dangerous wounds [illegible].

It is not probable that the President will live through the night.

Gen. Grant and wife were advertised to be at the theatre this evening, but he started to Burlington at 6 o'clock this evening.

At a Cabinet meeting, at which Gen. Grant was present, the subject of the state of the country and the prospects of speedy peace were discussed. The President was very cheerful and hopeful, [illegible]

All the members of the Cabinet except Mr. Seward are now in attendance upon the President, and have seen Mr. Seward, [illegible]

(Signed) E. M. STANTON.

WASHINGTON, April 15—[illegible] A. M.—The President [illegible]

[illegible]

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, April 15.—Abraham Lincoln died this morning at twenty-two minutes after seven o'clock.

(Signed) E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

Particulars respecting the Murder of the President—Precautions to prevent the escape of the Assassins.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The Provost Marshal General has issued a circular which says: It is believed that the assassins of the President and Secretary Seward are attempting to escape to Canada, and a thorough examination [illegible] of persons attempting to leave the [illegible]. The assassin of the President left behind him his hat and a spur. The hat was picked up in the President's box and has been identified by parties to whom it has been shown [illegible]. The spur was dropped on the stage, and that also has been identified as the one procured at the stable where the same man hired a horse in the evening. Two gentlemen who went to Secretary Stanton's house to apprise him of the attack on the President, met near his residence a man muffled in a cloak, who, when accosted by them, hurried away. It had been Mr. Stanton's intention to accompany Mr. Lincoln to the theater, and occupy the same box, but the press of [illegible] business prevented him. It seems to have been the calculation of the plotters to paralyze the people by at once striking down the head and arm of the whole country.

The cry of the murderer, as he leaped from the President's box and ran across the stage, betrays the madness of frenzy. All circumstances show that the same political fury and hate which lit the flames of this great rebellion, inspired this hellish deed. [illegible] the splendor of our triumph [illegible] infamy the plotters [illegible] and its sympathizers.

As soon as the dreadful event was announced in the streets, Richards, the Assistant [illegible] Marshal [illegible] and his assistants, and in a few moments the telegraph had aroused the whole police force of the city, and every precaution was taken to preserve order. All the streets were patrolled by troops. The police were mounted [illegible] Gen. Burgess, and every avenue leading from Washington was strongly picketed. The steamboats about to depart down the Potomac were stopped, and the awful news immediately telegraphed to Baltimore. [illegible] cavalry [illegible] upon active duty, and every road picketed, other means were taken for the arrest of the assassins.

The [illegible] says: It is suspected that the conspiracy was organized in Maryland. An examination of witnesses, [illegible] this morning, [illegible] The murderer of the President was J. Wilkes Booth. His hat was found and identified by several persons who had seen him within the last two days. A spur which he dropped was also identified, as one he obtained at the stable where he got his horse last evening.

The man had played several times at Ford's Theatre, and therefore was well acquainted with its [illegible] and entrances. The person who attacked Seward left behind him a slouched hat, and an old rusty revolver, the chambers of which were broken from the barrels, as if by striking. The [illegible] were drawn from the chambers, [illegible] only a rough piece of lead, and the others [illegible] smaller than the chambers, and were wrapped with paper to prevent them falling out.

The Evening Star says the President breathed his last at [illegible] this morning, closing his eyes as if going to sleep, and his countenance assuming an expression of perfect repose. There were no indications of pain. The Rev. Dr. Gurley, of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, [illegible] it being known that he was extinct, knelt beside his bed and offered an impressive prayer, which was responded to by all present. Dr. Gurley then proceeded to the front parlor, where Mrs. Lincoln, Captain Robert Lincoln, Mr. Hay, his private Secretary, and others were in waiting, where he again offered up a prayer for the consolation of the family.

The President's remains were removed from the private residence opposite Ford's Theatre, to the Executive Mansion at half past 9 o'clock, in a hearse wrapped in the American Flag, escorted by a small guard of cavalry. Gen. Augur and other military officers, were on foot, and a dense crowd accompanied the remains to the White House, where the military guard excluded all but the persons in the household and the family friends of the deceased.

The body was to be embalmed with a view [illegible]

The Deep Feeling in Canada.

TORONTO, C. W., April 15th.—The news of the assassination at Washington caused a profound sensation. Flags of the Custom House, American Consulate and the shipping in the harbor, as well as all the city, were displayed at half mast. Stores and places of business owned by Americans were closed, and the feeling of grief by the Canadian people is intense. It is contemplated giving some public expression.

Sorrow Throughout the North.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Places of business are closed. The street is assuming a sombre hue, and all public offices, stores and banks are draped in mourning. Suitable resolutions were adopted at the Gold Exchange Gold Room by the Board [illegible] which then immediately adjourned. An immense meeting was held on Wall street this evening, which was addressed by Gen. Butler, [illegible] S. Dickinson and others, and appropriate resolutions were adopted.

A committee of the most eminent merchants and citizens were appointed to go to Washington to attend the funeral.

The Governor has issued a proclamation recoking the proposed thanksgiving on the 20th, for the [illegible] victories, and changing it to a day of humiliation and prayer.

CHICAGO, April 15th.—Dispatches have been received from almost every city, town and hamlet in the North. The news of the murder of the President and the assassination of Secretary Seward, has been read with profound feeling of sorrow, and a solemn interest prevails in financial circles [illegible] present, the course of [illegible] confined to expressions of deep sorrow at the loss [illegible] with the Nation's hope at this period of its history. Men appeared to sympathize, as all do, over the loss of the head of a common family [illegible] Abraham Lincoln.

Business transactions are as little thought of as in a bereaved household. It was vain [illegible] at this early hour of the nation's [illegible] to consider the probable effect of the calamity upon the finances and commerce of the country. Men's minds are too profoundly concerned with the event itself to bestow a thought upon any of its consequences.

Further Particulars.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Gen. Grant arrived on a special train [illegible] proceeded to the President's house.

The second extra of the Evening Star says that [illegible] Provost Marshal of the [illegible] and Judge [illegible] of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, and Justice Miller, are engaged to-day at the Police headquarters on Tenth street, taking the testimony of a large number of witnesses.

[illegible] Booth had been stopping [illegible] a pair of [illegible] and a package of letters [illegible] which are in possession of the military authorities.

One of these letters bearing date at [illegible] Maryland, seems to implicate Booth, and speaks of mysterious affairs in which he was engaged [illegible] the views of the [illegible] of the letter, and that he would [illegible] that he was short of money [illegible] with Booth.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—[illegible] have been received from all parts of the country [illegible]

LATEST.

The Tribune says: The sudden death [illegible] the assassination of the [illegible] Abraham Lincoln [illegible] Chief Magistrate of a nation [illegible]

It is a deeper loss than if our best soldier had fallen by a foe, and that of the gallant Sedgwick a greater loss than if an army had perished in the field of battle.

Feeling in New York.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Special [illegible] meetings were held to-day, and addresses [illegible] by prominent gentlemen, the unanimous expression being to hold the rebel leaders to a just account for their crimes. Two men who expressed respect for Jeff. Davis, were driven out of a newspaper office [illegible] The steamer [illegible] Ministers at [illegible] Washington. An official dispatch was also sent [illegible] has issued addresses to the clergymen requesting appropriate prayers [illegible] the draping of all the churches in mourning. A Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the City Council, the Board of Aldermen and [illegible] to arrange for public obsequies.

The President's Death.

He was surrounded by Cabinet Ministers all of whom were bathed in tears, not even excepting Mr. Stanton, who when informed by the Surgeon General that the President could not live until morning, exclaimed, "Oh no, General, no, no," with an impulse as natural as it was unaffected, and he immediately sat down on a chair near the bed and wept like a child. Senator Sumner was seated on the right of the President and [illegible] the head, holding the right hand of the President in his own. He was sobbing like a woman, with his head bowed down almost on the pillow of the bed on which the President was lying.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The last writing done by President Lincoln was addressed to Hon. Geo. Ashmun in respect to a request of the latter for an interview. The answer was written on a card on the President's knee in his carriage about a quarter past 8 o'clock, just as he was starting for the theatre. The note was as follows:

"Allow Mr. Ashmun to come to me at [illegible] o'clock, April 15th, 1865."

Reports are in circulation that J. Wilkes Booth has been captured, but they lack confirmation.

Secession Sympathizers Punished.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Dispatches from every part of the North show the most bitter feeling against secession sympathizers. There have been no serious outbreaks, but individual instances are mentioned where persons expressing secession sentiments have been summarily dealt with.

A sympathizer at Washington was shot dead by a soldier for rejoicing over the death of Mr. Lincoln, and the soldier was not arrested.

Geo. Wells, was arrested and sent to the penitentiary in New York city for a similar offense.

Another man, a Wall street gold broker, gave vent to secession sentiments, and preparations were immediately made by a crowd to hang him to a lamp post, but he was rescued by the police.

Three rebel prisoners were hung at Indianapolis for expressing their gratification at the success of the assassins.

The universal feeling seems to be to mete out the sternest justice to all sympathizers with the rebellion.

Seward's Wounds not Mortal.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The Post's special says: [illegible] of the State Department, who was in attendance on Secretary Seward, [illegible] Mr. Seward is in a very precarious condition.

Another dispatch says his wounds are bad, but not mortal. He does not complain [illegible] no arteries were cut. Fred. Seward's skull is fractured badly in two places, about the [illegible] and fears are entertained that he will not recover.

Among the letters found in Booth's trunk, [illegible] was one, apparently from a lady, supplicating him to desist from the plan in which he was about to engage; that the time was unpropitious, and the time not yet ready to be [illegible]

The Washington Chronicle says: The evidence obtained renders it highly probable that the man who attempted to murder Mr. Seward is a Surratt, of Prince George county, Maryland. About midnight two men crossed the Anacostia bridge, one of whom gave his name as Booth, and the other Smith. The latter is believed to be Surratt.

It is evident that the scope of the plot was intended to be much more comprehensive. The Vice President and other prominent members of the Administration were particularly inquired of by the suspected parties, and their precise localities accurately [illegible] the plot miscarried.

CHICAGO, April 15.—A telegram this afternoon [illegible] Washington, says that Secretary Seward's face is gashed, but his throat is not cut. He saved himself by rolling from his bed.

Andrew Johnson President.

WASHINGTON, April 15, 3 P. M.—Official notice of the death of the late President was given by the Heads of Departments this morning to Andrew Johnson, Vice President, on whom, by the Constitution, devolves the office of President. Mr. Johnson, upon receipt of the notice, appeared before Hon. S. P. Chase, Chief Justice of the United States, and took the oath of office as President of the United States and assumed its duties, and at 12 o'clock the President met the Heads of Departments in a Cabinet meeting in the Treasury [illegible] Among other business, the following was transacted: First, the arrangements for the funeral of the late President were referred to the several Secretaries as far as they related to their respective departments. Second, Hunter was appointed Acting Secretary of State during the disability of Mr. Seward and his son, Fred., the Assistant Secretary. Third, the President formally announced that he desired the present Heads of Departments to remain [illegible] discharge their respective duties in the same manner as before [illegible] the Government [illegible] The [illegible] Seward [illegible] Fred. Seward's [illegible] have not yet been apprehended.

THE NATIONAL CALAMITY.—[illegible] was thrown into a great state of [illegible] business was suspended [illegible] the intelligence was received at the [illegible] that the President and the chief [illegible] Seward, had been assassinated. [illegible] had been made to course through the [illegible] for the few days previous [illegible] feeling, and the [illegible] spent over the [illegible] to the heart of every one who [illegible] America's honor. [illegible] after it touched the [illegible] demonstration [illegible] that an hour [illegible] of business was [illegible] gether on the corners [illegible] the emotions of the heart [illegible] at half-mast. [illegible] and the effect of it baffles description. [illegible] the various churches of the city [illegible] the calamitous event [illegible] and many tears shed over the sad bereavement to the Nation.

GONE EAST.—Mr. Harrison [illegible] take their departure for the East to-day by the [illegible]. In parting with [illegible] good-bye, but only for a long [illegible] being identified with the best interests [illegible] rapid strides of progression [illegible] with a strong tie of fellow [illegible] of those whom [illegible] "Californians," come to Oregon [illegible] pointing the resources of a [illegible] navigation of the Columbia [illegible] pioneers of the Cascades [illegible] "Oregon side." But instead of taking [illegible] old State her wealth, has [illegible] in building up and rendering valuable her [illegible] The old notions and prejudices of that [illegible] to say, are fast playing out [illegible] men who have been bold and [illegible] Olmstead, and the majority of those now composing the corporation of which he is a member—to open up and develop its resources, are getting [illegible]. Mr. Olmstead came to California at an early day, in 1849, if we are not mistaken, and being [illegible] has a dislike for the "Pacific slope." [illegible] and in his tour through the Atlantic [illegible] that Oregon will receive her due. [illegible] a safe journey and speedy return.

NOT MUCH WONDER.—People of the East [illegible] prone to think that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains is of a region comprising California. This is frequently made apparent to us by seeing [illegible] "in the cold" and the products of her wealth credited to the Golden State, and the more apparent still when is seen John Bull writing down his "[illegible]ding for credit," when asking for what is our due. The New Orleans Times of late date has a column of extracts under the heading of "News from California," almost the entire matter of which occurred in Oregon, Idaho, Washington Territory, Montana, and elsewhere on "this coast." But the States and Territories are being made so fast off here that it is not much wonder people forget that they [illegible] of the provisional government of [illegible] nothing of the organization of the Territory of Montana between latitude 44° and 49°, and longitude [illegible] 116°, with Fort Laramie for its [illegible] and about the geographical centre, [illegible] a map of it by Capt. John Mullan, who returned from "the States" by the steamship of Friday. We may be bounded as follows: On the north by Montana, east by Dakotah and Nebraska, south by Colorado, west by Utah and Idaho. It already contains a numerous population, but is without gold and silver mines.

OREGON APPOINTMENTS.—Mr. W. H. Newell, editor of the Dalles Mountaineer, has returned from Washington City, arriving by the last steamer. He reports that the appointments for Oregon had been settled upon previous to his departure for home, and that they are substantially as follows: Col. Wm. Logan, Superintendent of the Wasco [illegible] The vacancy in the office of Superintendent at the Warm Springs Indian reservation, occasioned by the resignation of Col. Logan, would be filled by Captain John Smith of Linn county. A [illegible] is reported to have [illegible] as his successor Mr. [illegible] of this city. A new land-office has been established at [illegible] with A. G. Hovey, Esq., as Receiver. Mr. Owen Wade would succeed Mr. Starkweather, resigned, as Register at the Oregon City land office. All other appointments are to remain unchanged, which will retain in their office Adams, Messrs. Huntington, Barnhart, Simpson and others.

[illegible] MATTERS.—Traffic with other ports [illegible] with us. The steamship [illegible] every week, and [illegible] The season has been somewhat [illegible] trade considerably, with the coun[illegible] Cascade range; but two weeks hence will [illegible] Vessels arriving bring full [illegible] incentive to ship, has caused one or two [illegible] be placed on the regular Oregon line [illegible] to the trade, and an independent [illegible] will shortly arrive here from California. We look for commercial facilities to double their present [illegible] of the coming twelve months, and if we do not wish to send abroad [illegible] must cultivate the soil and develop our manufacturing interests.

A WRONG.—During Saturday night Mr. A. D. Shelby's store door on First street was robbed of the crape hung there by the proprietor, in signal of mourning at the horrible atrocities perpetrated the night before, at the [illegible] Capital, resulting in the death of the President. We cannot endorse the act, however much difference we may entertain in opinion from the owner of the premises in [illegible]. We denounce it as a wrong. Mr. Shelby has always been known, since the commencement of the rebellion, as unfavorable to the cause of the Union—he has [illegible] "a rebel sympathizer" from the beginning. But in signifying his grief and his disapprobation of what had been done by the assassin's hand, was his right and privilege, which he exercised very punctually upon receipt of the intelligence, and it remains with God [illegible] whether it was an act of compensation from [illegible] motives.

[illegible] IN THE ACT.—As one of the carriers for this paper was delivering the edition of Saturday morning to his [illegible], he inadvertently let his eye fall upon one of the petty thieves who are in the practice of stealing the [illegible] daily, at the expense of a regular subscriber. He made off with it, but was forthwith compelled to march back to the door from which he had stolen the paper, and restore it. His being a one-armed man saved the [illegible] the trouble of making a "mummery" of himself long enough to dress the fellow's sheepish hide, and he [illegible] to run at large, "without any further notice" at this time. A repetition of the act will assure for him certain other "papers."

A BAD TIME.—Affairs have just now reached a crisis [illegible] it hazardous for persons to utter treasonable [illegible] on the public thoroughfares. Millions have [illegible] barbarity of the assassination of a good man [illegible] of a magnanimous republic—to avenge. "[illegible] vigilance is the price of Liberty," and cost what it may there must be no more dallying with red [illegible] traitors at home. Some two or more were arrested yesterday for hurrahing for Jeff Davis, we understand, and it is fit them be dealt with without leniency.

NEW PAPER.—Through the politeness of Purser Hoyt of the [illegible] John H. Couch, we are in receipt of a new paper, illustrated with engravings, published at Honolulu, Sandwich Islands. It is called Ka Nupepa Kuokoa, Buke I, Helu 1, and is replete with interesting matter in the [illegible], concerning the Islands.

THE OVERLAND MAIL.—The first coach of the California Stage Company, from Marysville, on the short schedule time, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon. The steamer Senator took the mail to Oregon City yesterday morning, which closed the contract for Sunday trips for the winter of 1864-5.

THE STEAMER.—The steamship Brother Jonathan, S. T. DeWolf Commander, will leave Couch's wharf for San Francisco at 5 o'clock P. M. to-day.

DUE TO-DAY.—The bark Cambridge is in the Columbia river, with a cargo from the Sandwich Islands, and will arrive to-day in tow of the steamer Okie.

ADDRESS.—The proposed address of Col. [illegible], before the Ladies' Christian Commission Association, will be delivered at the Presbyterian Church this evening.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.—The Democratic Convention, of Washington Territory, which met at Olympia last week, after a session of three days, on Saturday nominated James Tilton, of that town, as Delegate to Congress.

Card.

On reception of the sad news of the assassination of President Lincoln and the Chief Secretary of his Cabinet, feeling, in common with the citizens of our city, the grief that should fill the bosom of all, I placed upon the closed door of my business house the usual emblem of mourning. Some vile, cowardly midnight assassin and villain during the night of Saturday tore the crape from my door.

Brandreth's Vegetable Pills.—This medicine, of enduring efficacy, is justly prized as a corrector of all disorders of the stomach and bowels, the common symptoms of which are costiveness, spasms, loss of appetite, sick headache, giddiness, sense of bloating after meals, dizziness of the eyes, drowsiness and cramping in the stomach and bowels. These symptoms being suffered to remain, a torpid state of the liver supervenes, and all the horrors of dyspepsia are experienced. Every function of the frame is to a certain extent prostrated, but a little perseverance in the use of BRANDRETH'S PILLS will even restore the system from this state of misery. Two or three doses will convince the afflicted of their salutary influence. The stomach will readily regain its strength, a healthy action of the liver will soon take place, and instead of listlessness, heat, pain and jaundiced appearance, activity, strength and renewed health will be the blessed result. Brandreth's Pills are sold at 25 cents a box, enveloped in full directions. Purchase none unless my private Government stamp is on the box. See upon it "B. Brandreth" in white letters.

Soothing and Bracing.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all [illegible] disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction.—Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Sheridan's Movements.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The Times' City Point special says: As soon as Sheridan had rested his men and horses, he moved directly for Danville, and has ere this occupied the place. It was 70 miles distant. This places his force directly in Johnston's rear, and cuts off the latter's hope of escape. Sherman moved from Goldsboro, N. C., on Monday last, the 10th. The number of prisoners captured, from the beginning of the campaign, is over 20,000, aside from those who surrendered and were paroled.

Jeff. Davis going to Texas.

The Herald's Richmond special of the 11th says Jeff. Davis, Hunter and Thompson have long contemplated the formation of a trans-Mississippi Confederacy, to be composed of Arkansas, Texas, West Louisiana, and with such discontented Mexican States as might join them.

Operations against Mobile—Capture of Selma Confirmed.

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.—The Times' Spanish Fort dispatch of the 5th, says that a furious fire was opened on the rebels fort last night from our entire line. During the bombardment, a small magazine exploded in Spanish Fort, damage unknown. Quiet prevailed on the 5th. Deserters report 18 to 20 thousand troops in and about Mobile, who are nearly all State reserves, and 2,000 in Spanish Fort. The loss outside of Spanish Fort up to the 4th, amounted to 500, killed and wounded. The rebel loss exceeds ours.

Mobile papers of the 4th, announce the capture of Selma, with twenty-three pieces of artillery and a large amount of Government property.

Operations Previous to Lee's Surrender.

WASHINGTON April 13th.—A correspondent writing from the Army of the Potomac says: Very little fighting took place on April 7th. At Farmville there was skirmishing between the enemy's rear guard and the second corps and the second division of cavalry; the result being unimportant. Lee intended to fall back to Burksville, but being cut off by our forces getting to Burksville first, he changed his course and started for Lynchburg. Part of his army passed through Farmville on the 7th. After crossing the Appomatox the bridges were burned, and before our troops could get over, the enemy had taken position a mile from the river, where they made a stand, in order to let their wagon train get out of the way. On this side of the river just outside of the town, a division of cavalry had taken up a position, and seemed determined to annoy our advance while reconstructing the bridge.

The 2d division under Crook attacked them vigorously, driving them back for some distance; but they had a force dismounted and lying in ambush, which poured a heavy fire into our men. As they advanced to the second attack, they were compelled to fall back on their supports. The rebels soon after retired, being indisposed to await another charge. The loss on both sides in the skirmish, was very light. The 2d corps soon after crossed the river, and pushing on after the enemy drove them behind their newly built works. General Smyth was severely (it is believed), wounded in the charge. The loss in the 2d corps will be about one hundred and fifty, mostly of Smyth's command. In the morning before the enemy crossed the river, twelve guns were taken from them, and afterwards six more, making eighteen during the day, and about two thousand prisoners. The number of prisoners taken on the 6th, is put down at seven hundred and seventy, almost entirely from Kershaw's and Curtis Lees' divisions.

The ground where the surrender took place was almost covered with the enemy's dead, nearly all of them being shot in the head or the upper part of the body. The position was a very favorable one for them, but our artillery had a good range on an adjoining hill, and our men charged up the ascent with such impetuosity, that some of the rebels were bayonetted before they left their breastworks. The road for miles was strewn with broken wagons, caissons and baggage of all kinds, presenting a scene seldom witnessed.

On the part of Lee's army the loss on the 6th will sum up about 1,000 killed and wounded. The sixth corps suffered heaviest.

Another letter dated on the evening of April 8, says: Stragglers are found in every direction scattered along the lines. As the troops pass, they come in and surrender, expressing their determination to fight no longer, as they consider the rebellion as over. Four guns were brought in this morning, besides a long train of ambulances, many containing wounded, who were placed in the hospital and cared for.

Gen. Hays was relieved from the command of the second division for tardiness in moving his command in obedience to orders.

Another letter dated April 9th says: Notwithstanding the correspondence between Grant and Lee, yesterday, the 8th, which led all to expect a formal surrender, this morning the latter is exerting all his energies to escape the net laid for him. He marched rapidly all yesterday afternoon and evening, till he run against Sheridan at the Appomatox Court House. A sharp fight ensued, resulting in the capture of a number of prisoners and checking their retreat. The 24th and 25th corps were close up in support of the cavalry, and during the night took up a strong position across the main road and on the south side of the Appomatox river, cutting them off from retreat in that direction. Early this forenoon Sheridan attacked the enemy vigorously, and for some time a brisk engagement was carried on. About 1 o'clock A. M., a flag of truce appeared in front of his line, and he was informed that hostilities had been suspended. This was caused by an agreement made by Gen. Ord consenting to a cessation of firing so as to communicate with Grant. It was done, it is said, without proper authority; and Sheridan's Adjutant General was allowed to come through the rebel column to communicate with General Meade, who stated that he knew of no such arrangement, and that he was about to move north, in accordance with his previous intentions. Lee, however, sent another message, desiring to have an interview with Grant, to arrange the terms of surrender. Meade was thus obliged to grant a two hours' armistice, in order to communicate with Grant, who had moved around to the left during the night.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The Commercial's special says: It is reported that Johnson has retreated South. It is supposed the rebels intend to make a stand in Georgia and beyond the Mississippi, more with a view of securing better terms than from any hope of establishing an independent government.

Seward's condition still excites some apprehension, but it is believed he will recover.

The New York Express has information from one of its editors from Richmond, that Jeff. Davis on the 5th penned a proclamation at Danville saying that Virginia had been occupied by the Federal forces, and that the war would be continued. Sherman was in Raleigh and Johnson it was believed was retreating and it was thought for Augusta, where the rebels were trying to make the nucleus of another Southern army. The Express further says: Stoneman with from 6,000 to 8,000 cavalry had reached the Yadkin river valley, Yadkin county, North Carolina, and was moving on the railroad between Greensboro and Danville. As Johnston is north of this, his retreat is cut off.

Orders from the War Department.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—To General Dix—The Department after mature consideration and consultation with the Lieutenant-General upon the results of the recent campaigns, has come to the following determination, which will be carried into effect by the appropriate orders to be immediately issued:

First. To stop all drafting and recruiting in the loyal States.

Second. To curtail the purchases of arms, ammunition and quartermaster and commissary supplies, and reduce the expenses of the military establishment in its several branches.

Third. To reduce the number of General and Staff officers to the actual necessities of the service.

Fourth. To remove all military restrictions on trade and commerce as far as may be consistent with the public safety.

As soon as these measures can be put in operation, it will be made known by public orders.

(Signed) STANTON.

Sherman's Army Moving.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The Herald's Goldsboro correspondent says that Sherman's army commenced to advance on the 9th, moving in three columns under Holland, Slocum and Schofield. During the rejoicing over the news of the capture of Richmond, Sherman was called out by the troops and addressed a few words to them, saying that he was informed that Richmond was captured and that Lee was flying in dismay. He said that Grant wrote him that he was pursuing Lee, and he hoped that he, Sherman, would press Johnston, which, said Sherman, I think we will do; and the soldiers cried, "we will, we will." He told the soldiers that he did not mean to let Johnston have any rest. Johnston has evacuated Raleigh and is moving west, leaving the town in the possession of Hampton's cavalry.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Advices just received from Goldsboro, N. C., report that Sherman's army moved on the 10th.

Gen. Lee arrived at Richmond on Wednesday, April 12th.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The World's Goldsboro dispatch, of the 9th, says: Sherman has notified all corps commanders to be prepared for rapid marches, so that a speedy result may be expected.

NEW YORK, April 13.—A letter from Goldsboro, dated the 6th, says: There was the greatest enthusiasm prevailing in Sherman's army over the fall of Richmond. It is represented that the Union inhabitants of Raleigh have made demonstrations of joy in spite of the rebels. Sherman's army was under orders to move, prior to the news of the fall of Richmond.

Mosby still Holds Out—Reciprocity Treaty.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Gen. Grant arrived here this evening, accompanied by his Chief of Staff and [illegible]. Gould [illegible] commanding the Union forces at Fairfax Station, had received a message from Mosby, in which the latter says he does not care about Lee's surrender, and that he is determined to fight as long as he has a man left.

The State Department has promulgated the following formal notice of the termination of the reciprocity treaty, which was given by Mr. Adams to the British Government on the 17th of March. Its receipt was duly acknowledged on that day. Therefore, in accordance with the stipulation contained in the treaty, it will expire at one year from that date, viz: the 17th March, 1866.

Mexican News.

The Tresse's City of Mexico letter of the 29th says that a bitter feeling exists between the French and Austrian troops in Mexico. Numerous quarrels have taken place between them on account of the recollections of the French and Austrian war in general. Editors have been arrested for commenting on the conduct of Marshal Bazaine. The discords in the Imperial family are said to be unceasing.

NEW YORK, April 13th.—The Ocean Queen from Aspinwall on the 5th, arrived to-night. The papers contain the following:

Matters on the Isthmus are quiet. General Carrera, President of Guatemala was dying. There was little news of interest.

Peru was still suffering from revolution, which continues to gain importance. A steamer narrowly escaped capture. The fighting is still continued on the east coast. Hopes are entertained that peace will soon come.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED

In One Minute.

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.

F. TILMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street, Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR; WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, who has, in your presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned off.

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

Respectfully etc.,

A. E. TILTON,
WM. McFARLAND.

NO PRACTICAL

Lock Picker or Thimble Rigger

Required to OPERATE THE SAID LILLIE LOCK.

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at 318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND, Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, faring, however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed:) GEO. H. CHESBORO & CO

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
